Art Works Art Gallery: Giving our Students an Opportunity to Grow

Danica Loncar,
 Director/Curator

Nurturing the creative talents and unique vision of every student is the primary objective of our instructors, and Art Works Art Gallery seems to be a natural extension of this aim. Our in-house gallery offers students an exciting opportunity to exhibit their work in a professional gallery setting. A familiar environment provides them with a comfortable introduction to the process of showing their work. Newer students are invited to submit their work to annual group exhibitions while more advanced students can submit a proposal of select works for consideration towards a curated solo show. One such student is Glenda Madott. For the past several years, Glenda has been working independently under the mentorship and guidance of Art Works Art School instructor Marija Barac Jandric, building towards a body of work for her upcoming spring exhibition titled Sanctuary. The Sanctuary exhibition is a collection of paintings based on images of Sucker Creek, reflecting the artist's personal journey, experience and connection to Sucker Creek throughout her life time from childhood to adult.

Since opening its doors in 2008, Art Works Art Gallery has come to be recognized as a community hub with fresh, exciting, and diverse exhibitions of student and faculty work, as well as invitational shows extended to professional guest artists from outside the Art Works Art Gallery community. For more information about Art Works Art Gallery and the Sanctuary exhibition, please contact us at info@artworksartschool.com or 416-766-0662. Danica Loncar, Director Art Works Art School & Gallery

ART WORKS ARTS SCHOOL IN PRINT

Art Works Art School was featured on the front page of the Bloor West Villager this January. Instructor Lauren McKinley Renzetti led a group of over 20 participants with some coming from as far as Kitchener, Ontario. Printmaking was the focus of the workshop which forms part of our Free Friday Series for adults. For more information on our Free Fridays for Adults, contact our office at 416-766-0662.
